Plant Update

GTL Resources PLC (AIM: GTL.L), a renewable fuels company, announces that a small, isolated fire occurred at its ethanol production facility in Illinois USA, operated by its subsidiary Illinois River Energy LLC (IRE), during its regular maintenance shutdown.

No injuries occurred and there was no environmental impact, as the fire was quickly extinguished. More than half of the plant's production capacity was unaffected by the fire and is expected to resume operations post maintenance, as planned.

Some equipment damage occurred on the remaining portion of the plant, the extent of which is currently being ascertained. An update, with associated restart timing, will be provided once additional information becomes available.

Any damaged equipment and/or business interruption is expected to be covered by IRE insurance policies.
